

Please help us find the missing Doubling Point Light Fog Bell

The Friends of the Doubling Point Light are seeking any information that may lead to the location, or answer the mystery, of the missing lighthouse fog bell. The U.S. Coast Guard removed the fog bell from the lighthouse in August 1980.

The missing bell is nickel and self-polishing. It is approximately 27 inches high and 36 inches in diameter. One side of the bell is inscribed Buckeye Bell Foundry. The opposite side is inscribed with EW Van Duzen Co. Cincinnati US Lighthouse Establishment 1897.

Learning the whereabouts of this historical piece of the Doubling Point Lighthouse is extremely meaningful to all the devoted stewards of the lighthouse.
